

ENGAGING YOUNG ATTORNEYS IN SOCIAL JUSTICE

The Alabama Civil Justice Foundation believes that civil justice embodies the opportunity for all citizens to have access to a just and caring society. To that end, ACJF awards grants to nonprofit organizations that assist children, families and seniors. ACJF, too, awards grants to organizations that provide civil legal aid to the poor and support other justice-related initiatives.

ALABAMA CIVIL JUSTICE FOUNDATION

Our giving is possible because of Alabama's legal profession and charitable contributions from the community. We want to continue ACJF's commitment to social justice for many years to come; therefore, ACJF has established the Advocates of Justice Fund to continue our work to improve the quality of life for all Alabamians.

The Advocates of Justice Fund for young attorneys and community leaders under 40 is an excellent opportunity to continue ACJF's legacy of justice by providing revenue for grants during times of low interest rates from the IOLTA program and low IOLTA program enrollment and sustainability for ACJF to continue our work at our high level of excellence in difficult economic times.

We ask that you make a pledge of $1,500 to ACJF through the Advocates of Justice Fund which can be contributed over a five-year period. The first 100 contributors will be listed as the Charter Members of the Advocates of Justice Society.

We invite you to make a commitment to the Alabama Civil Justice Foundation's future to continue our legacy of giving. For more information, contact the Alabama Civil Justice Foundation at 334.263.3003 or visit www.acjf.org.

ACJF believes all citizens should have access to a just and caring society. Your pledge will allow ACJF to continue our work to improve the quality of life for all Alabamians. Yes, I pledge $1,500 to help transform Alabama!
